Editor's Note

Realising the specialised need of the Caribbean clientele, Janouras Custom Design Limited started integrating mass production procedures with the intricate detailing of individual measurements. Our team works with your company to develop your desired corporate image. Janouras can create a uniform for your entire staff that is effective, functional and classy by using unique styles, innovative colour combinations and branding elements such as embroidery.

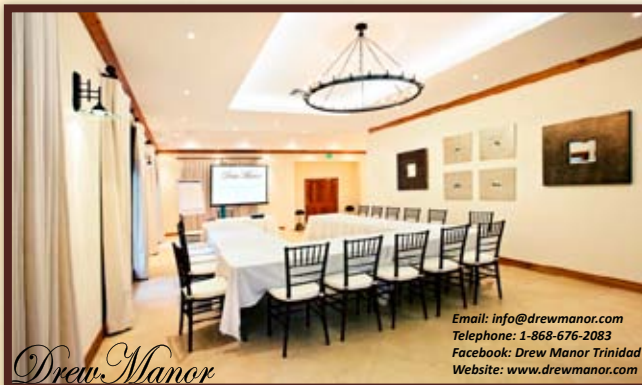

Each year Janouras tries to reinvent the concept of office wear. Our design team is constantly on the lookout for new trends and innovations that can be incorporated into the work wardrobe. In addition to creative new style ideas, we focus on details that suit every shape and size making our offerings suitable for everybody. Our patterns are continually refined to achieve the best fit for the distinct shapely Caribbean figure.

This new brochure picks up on the current colour-blocking trend which embodies the vibrancy of our Caribbean lifestyle. Using hints of colour as contrast, uniforms are now fashionable statements. Branding is no longer limited to embroidered logos. Your company can be easily identified with interesting and strategic use of colour. Another point of focus is the popular peplum. Janouras has played on this very “now” look by making it office and figure friendly.

Demand for our garments continues to grow and we remain humbled by the dedication and support offered by both our long-standing and new customers. Consistent hardware and software upgrades as well as additional machines and increased manpower combine to make our production facility an unstoppable force that remains unmatched within the region.

Smart DETAILING

A Creative Twist on a Classic!

UNLIMITED Contrast

The colour block trend remains a popular choice for professionals as it creates a great meeting place between elegance and function. By adding a touch of style to an otherwise simple look, corporate apparel is taken to another level of sophistication. Our design team can guide you towards putting colour combinations together that will best suit all body types. For example, keeping darker shades on side panels or bottom panels of a dress will contribute to a leaner silhouette. Also, colours selected for these styles should not match perfectly or be discordant – they should harmoniously complement one another.

A woman with dark hair and a smile is wearing a white long-sleeved blouse with a blue piping detail down the front and on the cuffs. She is also wearing a grey vest over the blouse. The background is a light, abstract geometric pattern.

A simple piping detail down the front of this blouse can complement your corporate image while making it distinct!

I really love my ... Convertible Blouse

This style can be worn as a long sleeve or folded and buttoned to create a fashionable shorter sleeve.

2 sleeve options for the price of 1!!!!

This is a definite crowd pleaser!

Peplum PROFESSIONAL

The Peplum feature has been prominent in garment manufacture for decades and has now adapted a sleeker more flirty appearance. While this style has received mixed reviews when it comes to office attire, our design team has found that the peplum, when designed appropriately, creates the illusion of an idealized hip-to-waist ratio. It is a uniquely feminine feature which can be incorporated into the work wardrobe in subtle and sophisticated ways. Peplums are now smaller and can be used to create proportion rather than add bulk as once perceived. So it is definitely a trend that we think can flatter any size or shape.
